Candidacy Mentor

“Mentoring occurs within a relationship where the mentor takes responsibility for creating a safe place for reflection and growth . . . Mentoring is a part of the preparation and growth for inquirers and candidates for ordained ministry . . . Mentoring is distinct from the evaluative and supervisory process that is a part of preparation for ministry.” (The Book of Discipline, paragraph 348.1a).

Purpose

Within the candidacy process, the purpose of mentoring is relational. A mentor walks along side a candidate, is present with the candidate, and offers spiritual guidance. The mentoring process is grounded in the assumption of a supportive relationship.

At times, the relationship will include moments of encouragement, comfort, and affirmation. At other times, it will be moments of challenge, accountability, and raising the hard questions.

The purpose of a mentor is to help listen to what God is calling us to do.

It is essential that we are clear that mentoring is not evaluative or supervisory. Those responsibilities reside elsewhere. The mentoring relationship is to involve trust, honesty, and agreement.

Certified Candidates have up to 12 years before moving forward. A mentor report form is due each year as part of the renewal process.

Qualities of a Mentor

Spiritually mature, demonstrating a deep and continuing commitment to God and growing in grace and love.

Demonstrates a strong understanding of call and commitment to Jesus Christ and to Christian ministry as lived through the church's ministry.

Appreciates the varieties of lay, licensed and ordained ministry.

Engages in spiritual practices.

Engages in personal vocational development.

Self-aware, respectful, and respected.

Encourages others to be comfortable and discuss in depth the many facets of vocational and personal development.

Able to be open and flexible in adapting to candidates' needs when possible.

Interest in candidates and mentoring.

Maintains family relationships and personal lives that are congruent with the standards expected of clergy.

Possesses excitement and joy for Jesus, the church, and the candidate's ministry.

Candidacy mentors are deacons and elders in full connection, associate members, and local pastors who have completed Course of Study.

Responsibilities

Pray for candidates.

Talk with the candidate to establish covenant and meeting schedules.

Study and discuss Answering the Call: Candidacy Guidebook with candidates.

Establish and maintain confidentiality.

Assist the candidate in navigating candidacy process (see checklists).

Prepare the candidate for S/PPRC and charge conference meetings.

After the candidate becomes a certified candidate, continue to meet as they discern their next steps toward licensing or ordination.

Using Answering the Call

Required to meet at least three times before a candidate can interview to become a certified candidate.

Session 1: Get to know each other. Review Chapter 1, establish a covenant, and schedule meetings. Discuss chapter 4.

Session 2: Read chapters 2 and 3. Use the discussion questions.

Session 3: Read chapters 5 and 6. Use the discussion questions. Spend time discussing the differences between being licensed and ordained.

Session 4: Read chapters 7-9. Use the discussion questions. Discuss seminary, if applicable.

Candidacy Mentor Report Forms

Forms are found online at www.vaumc.org/dcomresources.

The form is needed for the candidate to become a certified candidate, and annually to be renewed as a certified candidate.

It is not an evaluation or a recommendation.

Be descriptive of candidate's discernment journey.

Report form is to be shared with the candidate. There should be no surprises.

See pages 172-173 of Answering the Call for tips.
